1. MILMA DIARY.

2. KERALA AUTOMOBILES.

CONCLUSION

The industrial visit has been successful in imparting a practical knowledge about various industries to us. Both the industries were entirely different in various aspects. But a short study about these industries helped us in identifying many common factors in the market which influence the functioning of both the industries. We have also seen how the diversification and technology upgradation has helped 'MILMA' in holding the market till now and how the dependence on manual labour and conventional methods and techniques has resulted in the poor performance and functioning of 'KAL'.

From these we conclude that, coping up with the current trend will help in gaining success and growth, otherwise survival will become more difficult.
